

A Mansion, Robe and Crown

Arranged by Dale Entrekin

Words and Music by Sylvia Rose

1. I'm gon - na trade my earth - ly home for a
2. The wea - ther there is al - ways fair. There is
3. My head is bowed and blood - y now from the bet - ter one bright and fair. Christ left to pre - pare a man - sion for His sun - shine day and night. No cold and no rain will fall there for the work that I've tried to do. But one day I'll be re - ward - ed with a child - ren in the air. I'll join Him in that land where tears nor Son shines ev - er bright. I'll need no heav - y gar - ments I'll just crown so bright and new. I'll wear a smile so bright for there'll be sor - row can be found. And I'll re - ceive my man - sion, robe and crown. wrap my robe a - round when I re - ceive my man - sion, robe and crown.

no cause for a frown, when I re - ceive my man - sion, robe and crown.

man - sion robe and crown.

Man - sion, robe and a crown.
Lord I want a brand new man - sion robe and a crown in glo - ry.

There love al - ways a - bound.
There I know that peace and love will al - ways a - bound. For - ev - er

Let me your throne sur - round. Lord, let me be a - mong the saved to your throne sur - round. Lord

please re-serve my man - sion, robe and crown.
please re-serve my man - sion, robe and crown.